

Call for Applications
JUNE 26-29, 2018, PRINCETON UNIVERSITY

ATHENA IN ACTION

A Networking and Mentoring Workshop
for Graduate Student
Women in Philosophy

Application deadline

December 11, 2017

Ph.D. students are invited to submit papers (on any topic in philosophy) to participate in the workshop. The workshop will involve seven philosophy sessions and five advice sessions. Thirty-five graduate student participants will be chosen: seven paper authors, fourteen commentators, and fourteen session chairs. The workshop will provide all meals, shared hotel rooms at the Nassau Inn, and up to $400 for travel costs for each student.

Mentors

Anita L. Allen, University of Pennsylvania
Cheshire Calhoun, Arizona State University
Elisabeth Camp, Rutgers University
Lori Gruen, Wesleyan University
Elizabeth Harman, Princeton University
Helen Longino, Stanford University
Béatrice Longuenesse, New York University
Sarah McGrath, Princeton University
Jessica Moss, New York University
Jill North, Rutgers University
Gillian Russell, University of North Carolina
Susanna Schellenberg, Rutgers University
Seana Shiffrin, University of California, Los Angeles
Amie Thomasson, Dartmouth University

Advice Topics

- Getting the most out of graduate school
- Writing a dissertation
- Presenting at conferences
- Publishing
- Teaching
- Preparing for the job market
- Starting a tenure-track job
- Balancing work with the rest of life

Workshop Sponsors

Cornell University Sage School of Philosophy
The Marc Sanders Foundation
Princeton University Center for Human Values
Princeton University Council of the Humanities
Princeton University Department of Philosophy
Princeton University Office of the Provost
Rutgers University Department of Philosophy

For more information, visit athenainaction2018.weebly.com

Produced by the Office of Communications
Copyright © 2017 by The Trustees of Princeton University

